Acknowledgments

Just as it takes a village to raise a child, it seems like it took a village to assist me in drafting this book. I thank all those who helped me during the drafting process. I thank Professor David Ritchie for asking me to teach a class preparing the judicial externs at Appalachian School of Law for their summer externships. That experience was the impetus for this book. Additionally, I thank Professors Suzanne Cassidy, Linda Edwards, Jim Fleissner, David Hricick, Pat Longan, and Suzianne Painter-Thorne for the advice they provided on various chapters and sample documents. Their suggestions greatly improved earlier drafts of the book. Further, I thank my research assistants, Adrienne Bershinsky and Pamela “Krisi” Hartig, for their assistance. My puny timelines are now beautiful flowcharts thanks to Krisi’s efforts. And Adrienne’s editing suggestions improved the organization and substance of the book. Finally, I thank Harry Pregerson, Circuit Judge for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit; the late John D. Holschuh, U.S. District Judge for the Southern District of Ohio; the Honorable Norah McCann King, Magistrate Judge for the Southern District of Ohio; and Lisa Woodward, law clerk to Judge Holschuh, for providing samples of various documents for inclusion in this book. The contribution of each of these individuals was invaluable, and I am wholeheartedly grateful for their help.
