WESTLAW ELECTRONIC RESEARCH GUIDE

WESTLAW, Computer Assisted Legal Research

WESTLAW is part of the research system provided by West Group. With WESTLAW, you find the same quality and integrity that you have come to expect from West books. For the most current and comprehensive legal research, combine the strengths of West books and WESTLAW.

WESTLAW Adds to Your Library

Whether you wish to expand or update your research, WESTLAW can help. For instance, WESTLAW is the most current source for case law, including slip opinions and unreported decisions. In addition to case law, the online availability of statutes, statutory indexes, legislation, court rules and orders, administrative materials, looseleaf publications, texts and periodicals makes WESTLAW an important asset to any library. Check the WESTLAW Directory or the WESTLAW Database List for a list of available databases and services. Following is a brief description of some of the capabilities that WESTLAW offers.

You can now search many of the WESTLAW databases using the revolutionary new WIN®, a natural language search method. Instead of formulating a query using terms and connectors, you simply enter a description of your research issue:

What is the government's obligation to warn military personnel of the danger of past exposure to radiation?

WESTLAW then retrieves the set of documents that have the highest statistical likelihood of matching your description.

Retrieving a Specific Document

When you know the citation to a case or statute that is not in your library, use FIND to retrieve the document on WESTLAW. The following are sample FIND requests:

find 639 p2d 939
find ca elec s 7559

Updating Your Research

You can use WESTLAW to update your research in many ways:

- Retrieve cases citing a particular statute.
- Update a state statute by typing UPDATE or by using the appropriate jump marker (> or ►), from the displayed statute.

WESTLAW GUIDE

- Retrieve newly enacted legislation by searching in the appropriate legislative service database.
- Retrieve cases not yet reported by searching in case law databases.
- Read the latest U.S. Supreme Court opinions the same day they are released.
- Update West digests by searching topic and key numbers.

Determining Case History

Insta-Cite®, a service of West Group, is the most current source for the history of a particular case. Insta-Cite also provides citation verification and parallel citations. Use Insta-Cite when you need to know if the case you are relying on has any subsequent history.

Shepard's® Citations is also available on WESTLAW. Shepard's on WESTLAW offers several advantages, including the following:

- the consolidation of the books, pocket part and update pamphlet into one result
- the ability to view only those references for a specific jurisdiction, treatment code or headnote
- direct access to citing cases from the West National Reporter System®

Shepard's PreView™ is a WESTLAW exclusive that offers a preview of citing references from the National Reporter System before they are available in print.

Retrieving Citing Cases

You can supplement existing annotations or create your own set of annotations. Simply use the following approach:

1. Determine the format of the statute or case to which you wish to find references.
2. Select a case database in the desired jurisdiction.
3. Run a search containing key portions of the citation, plus any appropriate terms.*

*Because of the great variety of citations and citing styles, you should refer to the WESTLAW Reference Manual or consult with the West Reference Attorneys for more specific examples.

CALIFORNIA CODES

The present system of Codes in California was anticipated by the enactment in 1872 of the Civil Code, the Code of Civil Procedure, the Penal Code, and the Political Code. The first three of these Codes are still in existence, but the subject matter of the Political Code is now largely covered by the Government Code.

The intensive codification program which produced the current set of Codes was launched in 1929 with the enactment of Stats.1929, c. 750, and was completed in 1953 with the enactment of the Unemployment Insurance Code. The set then consisted of twenty-five Codes including the three enacted in 1872. The total was increased to twenty-seven with the adoption of the Commercial Code in 1963, and the Evidence Code in 1965. In 1981, the twenty-eighth code was added when the Public Contract Code was enacted, and the twenty-ninth, the Family Code, was enacted in 1992, operative January 1, 1994.

Stats.1929, c. 750, which launched the codification program, created the California Code Commission, and charged it with the duty of revising all laws of the state. The work of revision was to comprehend the preparation of a statutory record showing the status and disposition of acts theretofore adopted, the codification, consolidation, compilation or revision of all statutes in force; and the express repeal of all statutes theretofore repealed by implication, held unconstitutional, or rendered obsolete by the revision. The final report of the Code Commission was submitted September 1, 1953.

An essential preliminary part of the Code Commission's work was the preparation of a statutory record showing origin, amendments, and repeals of state laws enacted since 1850. The first volume of Statutory Record was published in 1933. Thereafter supplementary records were published for the periods 1933-1948, 1949-1958, 1959-1968, and 1969-1978. The Record is supplemented and brought to date in each volume of the session laws.

The California Law Revision Commission was created in 1953 (Government Code § 8280) and charged with the duty of recommending changes deemed necessary to eliminate defects and anachronisms, to modify or eliminate antiquated and inequitable rules of law, and to bring the law into harmony with modern conditions (Government Code § 8289). The recommendations of the Commission have resulted in the enactment of numerous revisions of, as well as additions to, the law.

Publication of West's California Codes was announced in 1954. This is a completely annotated edition which is supplemented by means of pocket parts and pamphlets.

CALIFORNIA CODES

The official Codes incorporate all the general and permanent legislative law of California. West's Annotated Codes contain additionally the text of—

Initiative measures, for example,—

- Chiropractic Act (Business and Professions Code § 1001–1 et seq.)
- Daylight Savings Time Law (Government Code § 6807–1 et seq.)
- Gift and Inheritance Taxes (Revenue and Taxation Code)
- Income Tax Indexing (Revenue and Taxation Code)
- Insurance Rates and Regulation (Insurance Code § 1861.01 et seq. and Revenue and Taxation Code)
- Osteopathic Law (Business and Professions Code § 3600–1 et seq.)
- Political Reform Act of 1974 (Government Code § 81000 et seq.)
- Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986 (Health and Safety Code)
- Tax Limitation—Proposition 13, Jarvis-Gann (Constitutional Article 13A)
- Tort Reform—Fair Responsibility Act of 1986 (Civil Code)
- Usury Law (Civil Code § 1916–1 et seq.)
- Victims' Bill of Rights, 1982 (Constitution, Penal and Welfare and Institutions Codes)

Uncodified laws of general interest—

See, for example, the Appendixes to the Public Utilities Code and the Harbors and Navigation Code

Water district laws—

See the Appendix to the Water Code

California Constitution

General and permanent laws are enacted currently in California as additions to or amendments of the Codes. The code section numbers, as well as Title, Division, Part, Chapter, and Article headings, where appropriate, are included in the laws as enacted. However, section headings for West's Codes are prepared by the West editorial staff, except for certain headings which are supplied by the Office of Legislative Counsel.

Subsequent to their original enactment several of the Codes have been repealed in their entirety and reenacted. These are—

Code	Originally enacted	Reenacted
Agricultural <sup>1</sup>	1933	1967
Education	1943	1976
Elections	1939	1961, 1994
Fish and Game	1933	1957
Probate	1931	1990
Vehicle	1935	1959

CALIFORNIA CODES

Research has been complicated in California by the enactment and reenactment of new Codes, Titles, Divisions, Parts, Chapters, and Articles in which subject matter is revised, transferred or repealed, and the same section numbers are used over again to identify different text. The problem thus created is solved in West's California Codes by the inclusion of tables, italicized notes, and historical and statutory notes containing explanatory matter and derivation credits, all of which combine to trace the law from its origin to the present, and from the present law to its source. Depending on their size and scope, the tables are inserted at the beginning of volumes or at the head of Divisions, Chapters, etc.

The means for finding a particular Code section are provided by—

To update the case history information for California Supreme Court and Court of Appeal opinions, see the California Case History Table and California Cumulative Review, Rehearing and Hearing Table in West's California Reporter Advance Sheets or WESTLAW'S Insta-Cite.

The pocket parts for West's California Codes supplement both the text and the annotative materials in the main volumes. Annotated pamphlets, normally issued twice a year, supplement only annotative features. Legislative service pamphlets, issued during legislative sessions as often as is necessary to provide prompt service, supplement the text of the Codes. Cumulative Tables and an Index in each legislative service pamphlet enable the user to find amendments of existing sections and to identify and locate newly enacted laws.

The development of the California Codes reflects the progressive posture of the California Legislators and of other energetic and enlightened individuals with an interest in the future of the state. The rapid increase in population caused in large part by migratory movement has created ecological, economic, and social problems which have been difficult to solve. The legislative solutions, to the extent that control and regulation can be effective, are found in the pages of the California Codes.

EFFECTIVE DATES OF LAWS

Constitution Article 4, Section 8, as amended effective June 6, 1990, provides, in subdivision (c):

“(1) Except as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subdivision, a statute enacted at a regular session shall go into effect on January 1 next following a 90-day period from the date of enactment of the statute and a statute enacted at a special session shall go into effect on the 91st day after adjournment of the special session at which the bill was passed.

“(2) A statute, other than a statute establishing or changing boundaries of any legislative, congressional, or other election district, enacted by a bill passed by the Legislature on or before the date the Legislature adjourns for a joint recess to reconvene in the second calendar year of the biennium of the legislative session, and in the possession of the Governor after that date, shall go into effect on January 1 next following the enactment date of the statute unless, before January 1, a copy of a referendum petition affecting the statute is submitted to the Attorney General pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 10 of Article II, in which event the statute shall go into effect on the 91st day after the enactment date unless the petition has been presented to the Secretary of State pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 9 of Article II.

“(3) Statutes calling elections, statutes providing for tax levies or appropriations for the usual current expenses of the state, and urgency statutes shall go into effect immediately upon their enactment.”

See, also, Government Code § 9600.

Constitution Article 4, Section 10, as amended eff. June 6, 1990, provides, in subd. (b):

“(1) Any bill, other than a bill which would establish or change boundaries of any legislative, congressional, or other election district, passed by the Legislature on or before the date the Legislature adjourns for a joint recess to reconvene in the second calendar year of the biennium of the legislative session, and in the possession of the Governor after that date, that is not returned within 30 days after that date becomes a statute.

“(2) Any bill passed by the Legislature before September 1 of the second calendar year of the biennium of the legislative session and in the possession of the Governor on or after September 1 that is not returned on or before September 30 of that year becomes a statute.

“(3) Any other bill presented to the Governor that is not returned within 12 days becomes a statute.

EFFECTIVE DATES OF LAWS

“(4) If the Legislature by adjournment of a special session prevents the return of a bill with the veto message, the bill becomes a statute unless the Governor vetoes the bill within 12 days after it is presented by depositing it and the veto message in the office of the Secretary of State.

“(5) If the 12th day of the period within which the Governor is required to perform an act pursuant to paragraph (3) or (4) of this subdivision is a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, the period is extended to the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday.”

See, also, Government Code § 9516.

Constitution Article 2, Section 10, and Article 18, Section 4, provide in part that an initiative statute or referendum (Article 2, Section 10), or an amendment or revision of the Constitution (Article 18, Section 4), “approved by a majority of votes thereon takes effect the day after the election unless the measure provides otherwise”.

Government Code § 12080.5, as amended by Stats.1974, c. 1242, § 2, provides:

“Except as otherwise provided in this section, a reorganization plan submitted pursuant to this article [Executive Reorganization, § 12080 et seq.] shall become effective the first day after 60 calendar days of continuous session of the Legislature after the date on which the plan is transmitted to each house or at a later date as may be provided by the plan, unless, prior to the end of the 60-calendar-day period, either house of the Legislature adopts by a majority vote of the duly elected and qualified members thereof a resolution, as defined in subdivision (c) of Section 12080.

“As used in this section ‘60 calendar days of continuous session’ shall be deemed broken only by an adjournment sine die, but in computing the 60 calendar days for the purposes of this provision days on which either house is not in session because of a recess of more than 10 days to a day certain shall not be included.”

Government Code § 17580, as added by Stats.1988, c. 1179, § 4, effective September 22, 1988, provides:

“No bill, except a bill containing an urgency clause, introduced or amended on or after January 1, 1989, that mandates a new program or higher level of service requiring reimbursement of local agencies or school districts pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution shall become operative until the July 1 following the date on which the bill takes effect, unless the bill specifically makes this section inapplicable or contains an appropriation for the reimbursement or a specification that reimbursement be made pursuant to Section 17610.”

Constitution Article 4, Section 8, prior to the 1990 amendment, as amended November 7, 1972, provided, in subdivision (c):

EFFECTIVE DATES OF LAWS

“(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subdivision, a statute enacted at a regular session shall go into effect on January 1 next following a 90-day period from the date of enactment of the statute and a statute enacted at a special session shall go into effect on the 91st day after adjournment of the special session at which the bill was passed.

“(2) Statutes calling elections, statutes providing for tax levies or appropriations for the usual current expenses of the State, and urgency statutes shall go into effect immediately upon their enactment.”

Prior to the 1972 amendment, Article 4, Section 8 of the Constitution, as adopted November 8, 1966, provided, in subd. (c):

“No statute may go into effect until the 61st day after adjournment of the regular session at which the bill was passed, or until the 91st day after adjournment of the special session at which the bill was passed, except statutes calling elections, statutes providing for tax levies or appropriations for the usual current expenses of the state, and urgency statutes.”

Under former Section 1 of Article 4 of the Constitution no act became effective until “90 days after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature which passed such act” except acts calling elections, acts providing for tax levies or appropriations for the usual current expenses of the State, and urgency measures. The former section also provided that initiative and referendum measures approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, at any election, took effect five days after the date of the official declaration of the vote by the Secretary of State. The former section was repealed November 8, 1966.

Under Constitution Article 4, Section 1A, adopted June 27, 1933, and repealed November 8, 1949, all acts passed at the 50th Regular Session on or before July 16, 1933, became effective 90 days after May 22, 1933, except urgency measures.

The following Table shows the date of adjournment or recess date and the effective date of non-urgency acts covering legislative sessions since 1933.
