About the Author

Dr. Matthew O'Deane has been a California police officer since 1992 when he was hired by the National City Police Department in southern California.

From 1992 to 2002 he investigated gang and narcotics cases on a daily basis. In May of 2002, he was hired as an Investigator for the San Diego County District Attorney's Office in the Bureau of Investigations where he has worked since, the majority of the time working cases while assigned to the Gang Prosecution Unit.

Dr. O'Deane earned his Ph.D. in Public Policy in 2007. He also has a master's degree in Public Administration, and bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice. Currently Dr. O'Deane is a professor for Kaplan University in the Masters of Criminal Justice Program and is also a professor for National University in the Criminal Justice Program.

He has also been a featured presenter at numerous national and international law enforcement and academic conferences speaking on the topic of gangs. This is the third book by Dr. O'Deane on the topic of gangs. He published the Gang Investigator's Handbook with Paladin Press in 2007 and Gangs: Theory, Practice and Research with LawTech Custom Publishing in 2010. Dr. O'Deane has also published articles for Law Officer Magazine, Police Magazine, and the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin in the past several years.

Dr. O'Deane created this book to help understand the dynamics of using civil laws to address the gang problem facing many of our communities. For more on the injunctions, including maps, photos, and research, go to <http://www.crcpress.com/product/isbn/9781439867877>
