

GENERALIST SOCIAL WORK PRACTICE

AN EMPOWERING APPROACH

Second Edition

Carla Krogsrud Miley • Michael O'Melia • Brenda L. DuBois

Second Edition

Generalist Social Work Practice

An Empowering Approach

Karla Krogsrud Miley

Black Hawk College

Michael O'Melia

Marycrest International University

Brenda DuBois

St. Ambrose University

Allyn and Bacon

Boston • London • Toronto • Sydney • Tokyo • Singapore

Editor in Chief, Social Sciences: Karen Hanson
Series Editor: Judy Fifer
Editorial Assistant: Jennifer Muroff
Marketing Manager: Sue Brown
Editorial Production Service: Chestnut Hill Enterprises, Inc.
Manufacturing Buyer: Megan Cochran
Cover Administrator: Suzanne Harbison

Copyright © 1998, 1995 by Allyn & Bacon
A Viacom Company
Needham Heights, MA 02194

Internet: www.abacon.com
America Online: keyword: College Online

All rights reserved. No part of the material protected by this copyright may be reproduced or utilized in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, or by any information storage and retrieval system, without written permission from the copyright holder.

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Miley, Karla Krogsrud

Generalist social work practice : an empowering approach / Karla
Krogsrud Miley, Michael O'Melia, Brenda DuBois. — 2nd 3d.
p. cm.

Includes bibliographical references and index.

ISBN 0-205-26740-8

1. Social service. 2. Social case work. I. O'Melia, Michael.
II. Dubois, Brenda. III. Title.

HV40.M5223 1998

361.3'2—dc21

97-11908

CIP

Printed in the United States of America

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3

02 01 00 99 98

Photo Credits: Chapter 1: Courtesy of the National Association of Social Workers; Chapter 2: Michael Dwyer/Stock Boston; Chapters 3, 7, 9–15: Robert Harbison; Chapter 4: Jim Pickerell; Chapter 5: Mary Ellen Lepionka; Chapter 6: John Coletti; Chapter 8: Will Faller; Chapter 16: Linwood J. Albarado

Preface

In the preface to the first edition of Generalist Social Work Practice we wrote:

The approach to social work practice presented in this text acknowledges our interdependence and celebrates the resources that collaboration creates. It maintains a broad-based view of human functioning and explores processes for activating resources in people and their environments. Moreover, it specifically focuses on the nature of the helping relationship itself as a resource for both workers and clients. Collaboration is the heart of this empowering approach. We believe in the creative synergy of collaborative processes. It's how we wrote this book.

This passage still applies, though it means something more to us now. We continue to find new ways to collaborate—with our students, our colleagues, social workers in our local community, readers and reviewers of the first edition, and social work professionals contributing to the knowledge base of the profession through articles, books, and presentations. We appreciate all the astute feedback we've received, especially the people who noticed what we did right.

As before, this edition emphasizes an empowerment-based generalist approach to social work practice. To this end we have added over 200 new sources to the reference list concentrating on generalist practice, empowerment, the strengths perspective, and cultural sensitivity. We have increased our use of examples and discussed additional applications at the mid- and macrolevels of practice. We have added a chapter on creating alliances (Chapter 13) to focus on the power of collaborative resources beyond the social worker–client relationship. We have strengthened our discussion of culturally competent practice with a new section (Chapter 3) describing ways to develop worker skills, agency operations, and community character to support cultural competence.

Plan of the Book

This book organizes material into four parts. Part One creates a perspective for empowerment-oriented generalist social work practice. Parts Two, Three, and Four describe and explain empowering processes that generalist social workers apply with clients at the micro-, mid-, and macrolevels of practice.

Part One, “Social Work Practice Perspectives,” describes how generalist social workers using an empowerment-based approach can meet the purposes of social work to enhance human functioning and promote social justice.

Chapter 1—Generalist Social Work Practice: overviews the profession of social work including its value base and purpose. This chapter defines generalist social work, describes roles for generalist practitioners, and introduces the empowering approach to generalist practice featured throughout this text.

Chapter 2—The Ecosystems Perspective: considers the importance of theoretical frameworks for practice, describes the ecosystems view and related concepts about human systems, and proposes an ecosystems framework to apply these perspectives in practice.

Chapter 3—Values and Cultural Competence: explores the various filters through which we experience the world including expectations, values, and culture. It describes how practitioners can infuse professional values and cultural competence into their practice.

Chapter 4—Strengths and Empowerment: introduces the strengths perspective, describes the principles of empowerment, and discusses the implications of these orientations for practice.

Chapter 5—An Empowering Approach to Generalist Practice: integrates the perspectives offered in Part One into an empowerment-based generalist practice model and applies it to examples at the micro-, mid-, and macrolevels of practice.

Part Two, “The Dialogue Phase,” describes the practice processes related to constructing and maintaining empowering client system–worker relationships, communicating effectively with diverse clients about their situations, and defining a purpose for the work.

Chapter 6—Forming Partnerships: examines the social worker/client system relationship and the qualities necessary for building professional partnerships. Also, this chapter discusses how to relate with clients who are culturally different, oppressed, or reluctant to participate.

Chapter 7—Articulating Challenges: discusses fundamental skills in communication. It emphasizes how social workers respond to clients in ways that clarify their challenges and leave them in charge of the direction of the work.

Chapter 8—Defining Directions: explains how workers reorient clients away from describing what is wrong toward creating a vision of how they would like things to be. It also discusses how to increase client motivation, collaborate with clients who resist, and take priority actions in response to crisis situations.

Part Three, “The Discovery Phase,” presents solution-oriented processes for identifying client system strengths and environmental resources and using them in planning.

Chapter 9—Identifying Strengths: describes how workers can orient their conversations with clients to uncover strengths and potential solutions. Specifically, this chapter helps workers locate strengths in how clients cope with challenges, in clients’ cultural memberships, and in how clients have responded to adversity.

Chapter 10—Analyzing Resource Capabilities: offers processes and tools for social workers and clients at all system levels to explore their resources and the resources of their environments. This chapter also describes how workers and clients analyze this information by applying an ecosystemic view.

Chapter 11—Framing Solutions: describes planning processes in which clients and social workers collaborate to look at situations, determine what is useful, set concrete goals and objectives, and generate possible strategies for change.

Part Four, “The Development Phase,” features generalist social work skills for implementing, evaluating, and stabilizing change efforts.

Chapter 12—Activating Resources: describes intervention activities to empower client systems with their own resources and increase their access to the resources of their environments. Workers implement processes to enhance interaction, develop power, change thinking and behavior, manage resources, and educate clients.

Chapter 13—Creating Alliances: explores ways to initiate alliances to support client systems in their change efforts. New relationships formed among clients such as in the examples of empowerment groups, natural support networks, and service delivery alliances all have potential benefits.

Chapter 14—Expanding Opportunities: examines possibilities for resource expansion through social reform, policy development, legislative advocacy, and community change. These activities fulfill the professional mandate to ensure a just distribution of societal resources.

Chapter 15—Recognizing Success: discusses how to monitor the success of the social work effort in order to maintain client motivation, determine effective strategies, and recognize successful outcomes. Specifically, this chapter describes practice evaluation, research, and the use of single-system designs.

Chapter 16—Integrating Gains: focuses on closure processes. Workers use skills to complete contracts with clients, make necessary referrals, stabilize the progress achieved, and resolve the emotional elements of the relationship. Endings with larger client systems receive special attention.

Acknowledgments

We are thankful for the encouragement and support offered by our colleagues, friends, and families. We especially thank David, Jane, and Jim! We are grateful for the technical assistance provided by the River Bend Library System and Black Hawk College librarian, Charlet Key. We also express appreciation to Karen Hanson for her unwavering commitment to this project, to Judy Fifer for her thoughtful direction and support, to Chestnut Hill Enterprises for their diligent work during various stages of production, and to the reviewers who offered thoughtful comments on both editions of this book: Edward W. Ihle, Syracuse University; Betty J. Kramer, University of Wisconsin–Madison; Stephen C. Anderson, University of Oklahoma; Thomas J. Blakely, Western Michigan University; M. Jenise Comer, Central Missouri State University; Mark W. Lusk, University of Montana; Robert Madden, Saint Joseph College; Mary Harris Pegram, Bowling Green State University; and Eleanor Reardon Tolson, The University of Illinois at Chicago.

Contents

Preface xv

PART 1 Social Work Practice Perspectives 1

1	Generalist Social Work Practice	3
	Social Work Values and Purpose	6
	Human Dignity and Worth	6
	Social Justice	7
	Translating Values into Practice	7
	Achieving the Purpose of Social Work	8
	Generalist Social Work	9
	Levels of Intervention in Generalist Practice	10
	Policy and Generalist Practice	12
	Research in Generalist Practice	13
	Advantages of a Multifaceted Approach	13
	Social Work Functions and Roles	14
	Consultancy	14
	Resource Management	17
	Education	20
	Integrating Generalist Functions	22
	A Generalist Approach to Change	23
	The Ecosystems Perspective	23
	Values and Cultural Competence	23
	Strengths and Empowerment	23
	An Empowering Approach to Practice	24
	Looking Forward	24

2	The Ecosystems Perspective	25
	The Knowledge Base of Generalist Practice	27
	Social Work Knowledge is Multidisciplinary	27
	Theoretical Frameworks for Practice	29
	Developing a Practice Framework	30
	Analyzing Theoretical Perspectives	31
	The Ecosystems View	31
	Humans in Context	32
	Focus on Transactions	33
	Development as Evolutionary Change	34
	Goodness-of-Fit	35
	View of Dysfunction	36
	Implications for Change	37
	Human Systems	38
	System Defined	39
	Dimensions of Systems	39
	A Structural View of Systems	40
	An Interactional View of Systems	42
	Biopsychosocial Dimensions	44
	Cultural Influences	45
	Ecosystems: A Conceptual Framework for Practice	46
	Identify the Focal System	47
	What's Happening Inside the System?	48
	What's Happening Outside the System?	48
	How Do the Inside and Outside Connect?	48
	How Does the System Move through Time?	49
	Applying the Ecosystems Framework	50
	Looking Forward	51
3	Values and Cultural Competence	52
	Frames of Reference	53
	Your Frame of Reference Shows	54
	Professional Values and Practice Principles	55
	Acceptance	56
	Individualization	56
	Nonjudgmentalism	57
	Objectivity	57
	Self-Determination	58
	Access to Resources	58
	Confidentiality	59
	Accountability	59
	Value Conflicts in Practice: An Example	59
	Personal Values and Resources	61
	Use of Self in Social Work	61

Increasing Self-Awareness	61
Values and Principles in Action: A Practice Example	62
How Values Influence Practice	64
Values and Diversity	65
Cultural Competence	66
The Need for Cultural Competence	66
Cultural Diversity Defined	66
Developing Cultural Competence	67
A Generalist View of Cultural Competence	68
Practitioner-Level Cultural Competence	68
Agency-Level Cultural Competence	73
Community-Level Cultural Competence	75
Looking Forward	76
 4 Strengths and Empowerment	 77
Strengths Perspective	79
Practice Assumptions	80
Key Transitions	80
Applying a Strengths Perspective	83
Empowerment	83
Personal Dimensions of Empowerment	84
Interpersonal Dimensions of Empowerment	85
Sociopolitical Dimensions of Empowerment	86
Power	87
Empowerment as a Concept and a Process	89
Empowerment-Based Practice	90
The Paradox of an Empowering Process	90
Collaboration and Partnership	90
Empowerment-Oriented Strategies	93
Tenets for Empowerment-Based Social Work Practice	95
Looking Forward	96
 5 An Empowering Approach to Generalist Practice	 97
Elements of an Empowering Generalist Approach	98
Infusing an Ecosystems Perspective	98
Reflecting an Empowerment Orientation	99
Collaborating with Clients	99
Empowering Assumptions	99
Phases and Processes of Empowering Practice	100
The Dialogue Phase	100
The Discovery Phase	102
The Development Phase	103
From Solving Problems to Promoting Competence	105

Processes in Action: Practice Examples	106
An Example at the Microlevel	106
An Example at the Midlevel	109
An Example at the Macrolevel	113
A Process for All Human Systems	115
Maintaining Flexibility in Application	115
The Recurring Nature of Social Work Processes	115
Structuring Meetings	116
Looking Forward	118

PART 2 The Dialogue Phase: Building Relationships and Assessing Challenges 119

6 Forming Partnerships	121
Collaboration and Partnership	123
The Dilemma of Social Workers as Experts	123
The Rewards of Clients as Experts	124
Making Initial Contacts	125
Recognizing What Clients Bring	125
Initiating Collaboration	126
Beginning Steps: A Practice Example	126
Qualities of Professional Partnerships	130
Genuineness	130
Acceptance and Respect	131
Trustworthiness	132
Empathy	133
Cultural Sensitivity	134
Purposefulness	135
Constructing Empowering Relationships	135
Recognizing Rights	135
Taking Responsibilities	136
Discussing Rights and Responsibilities	137
Augmenting Power	138
When Clients Feel Powerless	138
Voluntary and Involuntary Clients	139
Collaborating with Oppressed Clients	140
Partnerships with Larger Systems	141
Respecting Confidentiality	141
Absolute and Relative Confidentiality	142
Violating Confidentiality	142
Consent for Release of Information	143
Privileged Communication	143
Balancing Accountability and Privacy	146
Looking Forward	146

7	Articulating Challenges	147
	Describing Challenges	149
	Orienting toward the Future	149
	Focusing on Transactions	150
	Enhancing Client Situations	151
	Sizing Up Challenges	151
	Exchanging Information	151
	Verbal Communication	153
	Nonverbal Communication	154
	Influences on Communication Processes	154
	Listening and Responding	157
	Responding Versus Initiating	157
	Beginning the Dialogue	158
	Response Continuum	159
	Allowing Space	160
	Nonverbal Responses	160
	Single Word Responses	161
	Partial Restatement	161
	Complete Restatement	162
	Clarification	163
	Summary Clarification	163
	Request to Continue	164
	Questioning	165
	Combining Responses	166
	Practice Example	166
	Responding to Feelings	169
	The Experience of Feelings	169
	Identifying Feelings	170
	Verbalizing Feelings	170
	Validating Feelings	171
	Responding to Multiperson Client Systems	172
	Facilitating Discussion	172
	Respecting Existing Functioning	173
	Special Issues in Responding	173
	Responding to Anger	174
	Responding to Silence	175
	Responding to Questions	176
	Responding to Feedback from Clients	176
	Looking Forward	177
8	Defining Directions	178
	Transforming Challenges Into Directions	180
	Orienting Forward, Not Back	182
	Framing the Search for Resources	183
	Integrating Transactional Dimensions	183

Considering Client Motivation	184
A Transactional View of Motivation	184
Motivating Clients Who Have Given Up	184
Aligning Worker and Client Motivations	185
Overcoming Environmental Obstacles To Motivation	186
Motivating Larger Systems	186
Collaborating with Clients Who Resist	187
Resistance is Motivated	187
Cooperating with Res istance	188
Cooperating with Mandated Clients	188
Taking Priority Actions	189
Responding to Trauma	189
Responding to the Threat of Suicide	191
Responding to Threats toward Others	194
Responding to Child Abuse	195
Responding to Domestic Violence	197
Responding to Survival Needs	197
Responding to Signs of Addiction	198
Taking Control in Empowering Ways	199
Looking Forward	199

PART 3 The Discovery Phase: Assessing Resources and Planning Change 201

9 Identifying Strengths	203
Building a Foundation of Strengths	205
What Are Strengths?	205
Why Identify Strengths?	206
Balancing Strengths and Challenges	208
Looking for Strengths	209
Highlighting Strengths in General Functioning	209
Strengths in Individuals	210
Strengths in Families	210
Strengths in Groups	211
Strengths in Organizations	211
Strengths in Communities	213
Locating Strengths while Discussing Challenges	213
Solution-Focused Dialogue	214
Recognizing Cultural Strengths	217
Strengths in Diversity	218
Ethnic Group Strengths	218

Strengths in Cultural Group Memberships	223
Clients as Resources for Understanding Cultures	226
Uncovering Strengths in Adversity	226
Surviving Oppression	227
Surviving Violence	228
Surviving Family Disruption	229
Looking Forward	230

10 Analyzing Resource Capabilities 231

Exploring Resource Systems	232
Recognizing Environmental Resources	233
Turning Challenges into Resources	234
Collaborating to Search for Resources	234
Applying Theoretical Frameworks	234
Organizing Assessment with an Ecosystems Framework	235
Practice Example: Franklin Courts	235
Using Assessment Tools	238
Social Histories	239
Genograms	242
Ecomaps	243
Community Assessments	244
Tools as Resources for Empowerment	245
Adding Viewpoints	245
Bringing in Significant Others	246
Contacting Other Professionals	247
Assessing Through Observation	249
Observations by Clients	249
Observations by Workers	250
Analyzing Human Systems	251
Collaborating on Analysis	252
Applying an Ecosystemic Perspective in Analysis	253
Analyzing Structures	253
Interactional Analysis	256
Psychosocial Analysis	257
Cultural Analysis	258
Analysis of Physical Environments	259
Putting the Pieces Together	260
Recordkeeping	260
Recording	261
Types of Recording Formats	261
Ethical and Legal Issues in Recordkeeping	265
Looking Forward	266

11 Framing Solutions	267
Collaborative Planning Processes	268
Client Expertise in Planning	269
Worker Expertise in Planning	269
Issues Affecting Collaborative Planning	270
Planning in Multiperson Systems	271
Goals and Objectives	273
Differentiating Goals and Objectives	273
Considering Goals	273
Translating Goals into Objectives	275
Constructing Action Plans	279
Crystallizing Outcome Goals	279
Writing Effective Objectives	283
Prioritizing Objectives	284
Screening Generalist Intervention Strategies	285
Choosing Effective Strategies	288
Delineating Tasks and Responsibilities	290
Setting Reviews and Evaluations	291
Contracting	292
Forms of Contracts	292
The Evolving Contract	293
Contracting as an Empowering Process	294
Contracting as a Strategy for Success	294
Looking Forward	295

PART 4 The Development Phase: Implementing, Evaluating, and Stabilizing Change 297

12 Activating Resources	299
Applying Generalist Intervention Skills	302
Intervention across System Levels	302
Maintaining Progress in the Action Plan	303
Implementing Action Plans	304
Enhancing Interactions	305
Sustaining Motivation	308
Developing Power	310
Promoting Leadership	310
Recognizing Choices	310
Locating Genuine Options	311
Magnifying Strengths	312

Changing Thinking and Behavior	313
Offering Feedback	313
Constructing Feedback	313
Creating New Concepts	315
Using Narrative Strategies	316
Trying Out New Behaviors	317
Managing Resources	320
Linking Clients with Resources	321
Case Advocacy	322
Maximizing Clients' Rights	323
Educating	324
Teaching	324
Sharing Information	326
Looking Forward	328

13 Creating Alliances 330

The Power of Alliances	332
Developing Alliances through Groups	332
Groups and Empowerment	332
Mutual Aid in Groups	334
Facilitating Group Functioning	334
Social Action in Groups	336
Self-Help Groups	337
Strengthening Natural Support Alliances	338
Social Support	338
Assessing Social Support: Social Network Maps	340
Worker's Roles in Encouraging Social Support	343
Case Management: Client–Service Alliances	344
Case Management Defined	345
The Purpose of Case Management	346
Case Management in Action: A Practice Example	347
Case Management Activities with Clients	348
Case Management Activities with the Delivery System	350
Workers' Resources for Case Management	352
Critical Issues and Ethical Dilemmas	353
Organizational Alliances for Service Delivery	355
Building Interagency Coalitions	356
Working on Teams	356
Leading Effective Meetings	357
Professional Support Networks	358
Alliances within Organizations	358
Burnout	359

Professional Memberships	360
Connections in Cyberspace	362
Looking Forward	362
14 Expanding Opportunities	364
Opportunities: Keys to Empowerment	366
Environmental Opportunities	366
Environmental Risks	367
Empowerment and Opportunities	367
Empowerment in Groups and Communities	368
Resource Expansion	369
Identifying Resource Shortages	369
Mobilizing Resources	370
Educating the Public	371
Writing Grants	371
Community Change	372
Community Theories	372
Community Organizing	373
Community Development	375
Empowerment and Community Development	376
Policy Development	377
Policy Analysis and Change	378
Consumer Participation in Policy Development	379
Social Activism and Social Advocacy	380
A Heritage of Social Reform	381
Advocacy Role	381
Political Awareness	383
Social Work and Political Perspectives	385
Legislative Advocacy	385
Legislative Analysis	385
Lobbying	386
Legislative Testimony	387
Successful Legislation: The Americans with Disabilities Act	387
Resources for Professionals	389
Staff Development Training	389
Continuing Education	389
Professional Reading	390
Looking Forward	391
15 Recognizing Success	392
Social Work Evaluation and Research	393
Research Roles for Practitioners	395
Integrating Practice and Research	395