WORLDWIDE CHEMICAL DIRECTORY 1982

Foreword

This fourth edition of the Worldwide Chemical Directory has been extensively updated from its 1980 predecessor. Based on a postal survey of some 15,000 organisations in all parts of the world, the revision was largely made possible by the willing help of those who answered our questionnaires, to whom we extend our thanks. When we had no reply we crosschecked and supplemented our information as far as possible by extensive research among a wide variety of published and unpublished materials and by personal contact.

The Worldwide Chemical Directory is in three parts. In Section 1, companies are listed alphabetically under the names of the 130 countries covered, which are also arranged in alphabetical order. Each entry contains, wherever possible, the company's name, postal address, telephone and telex numbers, and cable address, with a brief description of activities and a statement of company affiliations if applicable. (P) indicates a producer, (D) a distributor or trader, and (P/D) a company which both produces and distributes.

In the second section we give the addresses and other details of the leading national trade and professional associations of the chemical and pharmaceutical industries.

The third section, an alphabetical index to Section 1, shows for each company the name of the country under which it is listed, and the page number. If a company appears under the same title in several countries, the index entries are arranged alphabetically by country within company name.

Because of the continuous rapid changes in the chemical industry we realise that the content of some entries may have become out-of-date during the production of this volume. We shall be very glad to receive details of any amendments that should be made in the next edition.

While every care has been taken to ensure that the information given is as accurate as possible, under no circumstances can the publishers be liable in respect of any errors in, or omissions from, this directory.
