ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This book is an amended and updated version of a PhD thesis, written under the supervision of Professor Claus-Dieter Ehlermann and defended at the European University Institute of Florence in September 2000. The completion of the thesis and the publication of this book would not have been possible without the presence in my life of certain persons to whom I would like to express my gratitude: my parents, Konstantinos and Athanasia, and my brother, Theodore, for their love and support, financial and other, throughout the years; Professor Ehlermann, for his conduct towards me and for his precious advice and guidance from the very beginning of this effort; my friends, Michael Fefes, Federico Ortino, Konstantinos Magliveras, for showing me the way with their experience, and for the endless inspirational and hilarious discussions about general issues and issues of our discipline, and also about people, weird situations, problems, “problems”, etc.; the European University Institute of Florence and the people working there, for being part and parcel of the fabulous years I spent in Florence, for providing me everything I needed to complete my work, and for the financial assistance for the publication of this book; Mr. Carmelo Morello, of DG IV of the European Commission, for being a great supervisor throughout the period I spent there, and for giving me the chance to be involved and deal with important cases, and see how things work from inside; Professor Grigorios-Evaggelos Kalavros, for trusting me and encouraging me to publish the book; all these persons, female and male, who came into my life these years, and either stayed or walked away, for having contributed in their own way, but especially those who have been a source of inspiration.

Finally, distinctive, wholehearted thanks are expressed towards the publisher, Kluwer Law International, for trusting my work and realising this publication, and towards Christine Robben, Ewa Szkatula and Steve Lambley, for their assistance and the perfect co-operation we had.
