ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

There are many people I would like to thank for going to so much trouble to obtain the endless wines needed for my tastings, for parting with the rare older vintages, and for simply providing time and encouragement.

First of all, I would like to thank my beloved wife, Patricia. This book is a direct product of my passion for wine, which she alone started by introducing me to my first glass of wine in Alsace in 1967. Little did she know I would take to the grape so passionately. However, without her endless assistance and remarkable charm as my loyal and faithful sidekick on so many forays into Bordeaux, I seriously doubt this book would have been possible. Second, I would like to thank several dear friends for parting with more perfectly stored, beautiful old vintages of wine than anyone could have ever imagined. Without their assistance, many of the rare 1961s could not have been tasted. To Karen and Joe Weinstock, and Paul Evans, I thank you dearly. Third, I owe a great deal of gratitude to my literary agent, Bob Lescher, whose encouragement and belief in what I do is eternally a great source of confidence and joy.

In Europe and Bordeaux, I owe a great indebtedness to so many people in obtaining the thousands of wines for tastings over recent years. The late Martin Bamford, Anthony Barton, Jean Claude Berrouet, Bill Blatch, Jean Eugène Borie, Christopher Cannan, Francis Dewavrin, Jean Delmas, Eric Fournier, Jean Paul Gardère, Peter Griffiths, Patrick Grubb, Phillippe Guyonnet-Duperat, Jean Paul Jauffret, Nathaniel Johnston, Archie Johnston, Dennis Johnston, Alain Maurel, Jean-Pierre Moueix, Christian Moueix, Jean François Moueix, Yves Pardes, Bruno Prats, Dominique Renard, Michel Rolland, Pierre Tari, and Daniel Vergeley have all been immensely helpful in providing the necessary tastings for writing this book.

On this side of the Atlantic, I would like to thank the following people who have been instrumental in my career as a wine writer because of the support they have provided: Bill Rice, John and Elin Walker, Addy Bassin, Ed Sands, Frank Polk, Mary Mulligan, Steve Wallace, Thomas Hoving, Phyllis Richmon Chasanov, Steve and Barbara Jacoby, Stephen Gilbertson, Nick Poulos, Abdulah Simon, Elliott Staren, Dick Carretta, Jay Miller, Victor Morgenroth, and Alexis Bespaloff. I would also like to thank my secretary, Joan Passman, who for the last six months has had to be one of the most overworked people in the world. She never once complained. Thank you, Joan.

Lastly, I owe a great deal to both Dan Green and Carole Lalli at Simon & Schuster. Dan Green's enthusiasm and total support for this book and the extra effort he put forth to make this book what it is have made me feel incredibly fortunate and lucky. My editor, Carole Lalli, also was a wonderful asset with whom I found it a joy to work. All authors should be so lucky to have the kind of support, cooperation, and expertise I received from them and their assistants.

This book is dedicated to my beloved Pat, my mother and father, and to the memory of a dear friend, the late Martin Bamford.
