NOTICE

Medical-surgical nursing is an ever-changing field. Standard safety precautions must be followed, but as new research and clinical experience broaden our knowledge, changes in treatment and drug therapy become necessary or appropriate. The editors of this work have carefully checked the generic and trade drug names and verified drug dosages to ensure that the dosage information in this work is accurate and in accord with the standards accepted at the time of publication. Readers are advised, however, to check the product information currently provided by the manufacturer of each drug to be administered to be certain that changes have not been made in the recommended dose or in the contraindications for administration. This is of particular importance in regard to new or infrequently used drugs. It is the responsibility of the treating physician, relying on experience and knowledge of the patient, to determine dosages and the best treatment for the patient. The editors cannot be responsible for misuse or misapplication of the material in this work.

THE PUBLISHER

Acknowledgments

As the saying goes, “No one does it alone.” Nothing is more truthful than this when it comes to this book. I have so many to thank for their love, encouragement, support, and spirit of wisdom and for exemplifying the true meaning of family: my mother Olga (Budnik) Chernecky, late father Edward Chernecky, brother Richard Chernecky, godmother Helen (Budnik) Prohorik, godson Johnathon Tarutis, nieces Ellie and Annie Chernecky, nephew Michael Chernecky, cousins Paula Smart and Karyn Tarutis, Aunt Julie Dewey, and late Uncle Charles “Chuck” Dewey. I want you to know that you all bring a smile to my heart and love to my soul. My co-editor and co-author, Barb, who was a true colleague understands unconditional trust, hard work, computer technology, the nature of good wine, the need for humor, and a heart full of respect. My colleagues at the universities that I have been affiliated with: the University of Connecticut, the University of Pittsburgh, Clemson University, Case Western Reserve University, the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh, and the Medical College of Georgia. To Ruth Krech-Fritskey, co-author of the first edition, and to all the past and current contributors to this book, who worked endlessly in pursuit of an outcome of knowledge that adds true meaning to life, you have my respect, admiration, and humble thanks.

To Barbara Nelson Cullen, Senior Editor, and Marie Pelcin, Editorial Assistant, at W.B. Saunders, who were there for all our questions and time frames; you made the project a joy. To nurses, physicians, and other health care professionals who give meaning to this entire project, we welcome and respect your feedback. You have been truly amazing! Then there are the words of wisdom that I feel I must share with those of you who contemplate a project such as this: You will require at least one dog to put things into perspective (thanks, Sasha, Josh, and Cleo); a computer with 32 MB of RAM; a clock that is broken and always reads 9 o'clock, no matter how long you have been working; a taste for wine; an endless sense of humor; a case of diskettes; e-mail; a phone with lots of memory dials; endless organizational skills that include baskets labeled with phrases like “to be edited,” “first edit,” “second edit,” “final revisions,” and—can you believe it—“ready to print”; and a time frame that includes such things as taking the computer apart and adding more memory and allowing an entire day for nonstop printing. Such is life!

There are several people who have touched my life and whose kindness has come from the heart, and I wish to thank them publicly: His Eminence Archbishop DMITRI of Texas, Archpriest John and Matushka Barbara Townsend and Priest Peter (Catalin) and Preotassa Felicia Mot of St. Mary of Egypt Orthodox Church in Georgia; Priest Gregory and Presbyteria Raisa Koo of St. John the Theologian Orthodox Mission Church in Georgia; Priest Jason and Matushka Kappanadze of St. Theodosius Orthodox Cathedral in Ohio; Priest Alexis and Matushka Venogradov of St. Gregory the Theologian Orthodox Church in New York; Priest Michael and Matushka Herrick of St. Matthew's Orthodox Church in Wisconsin; Choir Director Dr. Jeff Zdrale; Bonita Zdrale; Abigail Zdrale; Elaine Calugar; Judy Zynko; Choir Director Phyllis Skiba; Monk Sergius; Jack, Rebecca, and Mary Beth Chaoussoglou; Mike, Lydia, and Nina Mytrohovich; Tom and LaVerne Jacobson; Dr. Leon and Barbara Sheehan; Claire and Phyllis Gindlesperger; Flossie Seargent; Sue McIssic; Carol Matthews; Dr. Rosemary Smith; Dr. Claire Meisenheimer; Dr. Vickie Lambert (Dean); Dr. Patricia Lillis; Dr. Lore Wright; Dr. Katherine Nugent; Dr. Virginia Kemp; David and Janice Douglass; Ursula Grimmert; Kathleen Haverlack of St. Vladimir's Orthodox Theological Seminary; and cousins George and Valentina Yelenovsky. To those who have supported me on my quest for truth on the road to eternal life; to Orthodoxy worldwide; to His Holy, Catholic, and Apostolic Church; to the Episcopate of the Orthodox Church whose preservation and continuation of the word of truth are truly inspiring; and to Orthodox Christians everywhere who have found the true faith: May God Grant You Many Years!

Cynthia (Cinda) Cecilia Chernecky

It is with extreme gratitude that I thank the many people and organizations that helped this second edition of Laboratory Tests and Diagnostic Procedures go to press. My contributing colleagues in town and across the country helped expand the content where needed, condense the content where wordiness impeded clarity, and add the special features that set this book apart from others on the market. Each contributor tapped experts in his or her region of the country so that we could include the most timely information on the current and new tests and procedures. This edition shines as a result of all of the contributors' efforts. Special thanks to our consultants at University Hospitals of Cleveland (listed within), who were heavily queried for information. I also thank the employees of organizations such as the Allen Memorial Library at Case Western Reserve University, the National Library of Medicine, the National Cancer Institute, and the Poison Control Center of Greater Cleveland. They readily shared their time and expertise to help us locate the specific literature and research information that we needed for clarification and synthesis of content. Barbara Nelson Cullen, our editor at W.B. Saunders, and her assistant, Marie Pelcin, are to be thanked for helping us keep the numerous details of the coordination of this edition on the straight-and-narrow time line. Likewise, Fran Bartlett and her staff provided meticulous copyediting that greatly improved the continuity of this edition. We are also indebted to Jeanne Borczuk for the attractive page layouts. Thanks to Pentium technology, this edition brought only one computer to a standstill, easily remedied by additional RAM, so thank you Intel and Acer America! Thank you to my husband, Stephan Berger, who once again provided so many small comforts that added up to a LOT of support for this project. My parents, Alice and Arlington Adams, also provided moral support and encouragement as I waded through my share of details and editing. Finally, thanks to Cinda Chernecky, my co-editor and friend, without whom I surely would have forgotten that teamwork comes in handy when you're bleary-eyed, that some people don't need much (any?) sleep, and that humor can be found in everything to help provide balance in one's life.
