B. Commonwealth University Degree Abbreviations

The following list is restricted to degrees that are currently awarded by (i) Commonwealth institutions with chapters in the 1988 Yearbook and (ii) any degree-granting institutions that are federated with or affiliated to them. The degree title opposite each abbreviation is the form normally used by the awarding institution(s).

Of the degree titles listed below, nearly three-quarters are conferred by only one institution and about 90 per cent. by four or fewer. It will be seen that (a) two or more institutions may use the same abbreviation to designate different degrees (e.g. BBSce), and (b) two or more institutions which award a degree of the same title do not necessarily designate it by the same abbreviation (e.g. BCh and BS).

Honorary degrees are included in the list but are not distinguished from 'earned' degrees. Many degrees are awarded with honours and the courses for some honours degrees are quite distinct from the courses for the corresponding pass degrees, but for reasons of space the honours forms of the abbreviations and titles are not given below (e.g. BA hons. is excluded). Similarly 'special' and 'general' degrees are not separately distinguished (e.g. BSc(Sp) and BA(Gen) are excluded). For the purposes of this list a 'conjoint' degree such as MB ChB is listed as two separate degrees.

The names of the awarding institutions are not indicated unless: (i) a degree title in both its full and its abbreviated form is common to only four or fewer institutions; (ii) there is more than one version of the full title of a degree that has been designated by the same abbreviation at a number of institutions (e.g. LLD), in which case the less usual version of the title is normally followed by the names of all the institutions using that version; (iii) a degree is expressed in a language other than English, in which case the names of all the awarding institutions are given, together with the title of the degree in the original language. The name of a country in brackets after the title of a degree means that, although it is awarded by more than four institutions, all those institutions which award it are in the named country.
