前言

值此《同等学力人员申请硕士学位英语统考辅导丛书》新版问世之际，首先衷心感谢广大读者和客户多年来对本丛书的支持和爱戴。该丛书原在中国人民大学出版社出版，现改在内蒙古大学出版社出版。此次再版，以《综合教程》替换原《综合分册》，以《模拟试题集》替换原《模拟试题分册》，其他各分册保持不变。新版根据新大纲的精神编写，同时吸收本年度考试的最新信息进行修订和调整，相信新版的《同等学力人员申请硕士学位英语统考辅导丛书》仍是广大考生和培训班学员的必备用书。

近年来，随着社会发展对高层次人才需求的不断加大，参加同等学力人员申请硕士学位英语统一考试的人数在快速增长。为了使考生能够对该类考试的全部过程以及考试题型和难易度的变化有所了解，进而更好地备战考试，我们收集并编写了这本《历年试题解析》。

在编写本书的过程中，我们尽可能地把1997年以来正式使用过的考题及公布样题收入题集，以便于考生了解考试的全貌和进行相应的自测；同时尽可能地为考生提供客观的解析和答案。我们认为这些历年考试真题都是经过多次筛选和推敲的，是考生最好的测试材料和阅读材料。大纲中确定的许多语言考查重点在这些考题中得到了很好的体现。所以，考生如果能够认真地了解这些考题，在一定的程度上就有可能把握住复习的重点和要领。

本书共包括7套正式考题和2套样题。考虑到1994年题型和1998年题型在形式和题量上均有较大的差异，我们将这两年的样题均收入“解析”，以供考生参考。由于1997年后同等学力人员英语统一考试实行A卷和B卷，我们根据收集的情况分别采用。实际上，A卷和B卷只是在选择项目的顺序上有所不同，考题则是一样的。我们希望这本“解析”能够帮助考生更好地、有针对性地进行复习，在考试中取得良好的成绩。

在编写本书的过程中，我们得到朋友们的大力支持与帮助，在此表示衷心的感谢。由于时间仓促，编写者水平有限，书中错误在所难免，诚请读者批评指正。

Directions: There are five passages in this part. Each passage is followed by five questions or unfinished statements. For each of them there are four choices marked A, B, C and D. Choose the best answer and mark the corresponding letter on the ANSWER SHEET with a single line through the center.

Passage 1

Andrea had never seen an old lady hitchhiking (搭车) before. However, the weather and the coming darkness made her feel sorry for the lady. The old lady had some difficulty climbing in through the car door, and pushed her big brown canvas shopping bag down onto the floor under her feet. She said to Andrea, in a voice that was almost a whisper, "Thank you dearie — I'm just going to Brockbourne."

Something in the way the lady spoke, and the way she never turned her head, made Andrea uneasy about this strange hitchhiker. She didn't know why, but she felt instinctively that there was something wrong, something odd, something... dangerous. But how could an old lady be dangerous? It was absurd.

Careful not to turn her head, Andrea looked sideways at her passenger. She studied the hat, the dirty collar of the dress, the shapeless body, the arms with their thick black hairs...

Thick black hairs?

Hairy arms? Andrea's blood froze.

This wasn't a woman. It was a man.

At first, she didn't know what to do. Then suddenly, an idea came into her racing, terrified brain. Swinging the wheel suddenly, she threw the car into a skid (刹车), and brought it to a halt.

"My God!" she shouted, "A child! Did you see the child? I think I hit her!"

The "old lady" was clearly shaken by the sudden skid, "I didn't see anything dearie," she said. "I don't think you hit anything."

"I'm sure it was a child!" insisted Andrea. "Could you just get out and have a look? Just see if there's anything on the road?" She held her breath. Would her plan work?

It did. The passenger slowly climbed out to investigate. As soon as she was out of the vehicle, Andrea gunned the engine and accelerated madly away, and soon she had put a good three miles between herself and the awful hitchhiker.

It was only then that she thought about the bag lying on the floor in front of her. Maybe the bag would provide some information about the real identity about the man. Pulling into the side of the road, Andrea opened the heavy bag curiously.

It contained only one item — a small hand axe, with a razor-sharp blade. The axe, and the inside of the bag, were covered with the dark red stains of dried blood.

Andrea began to scream.

Passage 2

Desperately short of living space and dangerously prone to flooding, the Netherlands plans to start building homes, businesses and even roads on water.

With nearly a third of the country already covered by water and half of its land mass below sea level and constantly under threat from rising waters, the authorities believe that floating communities may well be the future.

Six prototype wooden and aluminum floating houses are already attached to something off Amsterdam, and at least a further 100 are planned on the same estate, called Ijburg.

"Everybody asks why didn't we do this kind of thing before," said Gijsbert Van der Woerdt, director of the firm responsible for promoting the concept. "After Bangladesh we're the most densely populated country in the world. Building space is scarce and government studies show that we'll need to double the space available to us in the coming years to meet all our needs."

Before being placed on the water and moved into position by tugboats (拖船), the houses are built on land atop concrete flat-bottomed boats, which encase giant lumps of polystyrene (聚苯乙烯) reinforced with steel. The flat-bottomed boats are said to be unsinkable and are anchored by underwater cables. The floating roads apply the same technology.

The concept is proving popular with the Dutch. The waiting list for such homes, which will cost between euros 200, 000 — 500, 000 to buy, runs to 5, 000 names, claims Van der Woerdt.

With much of the country given over to market gardening and the intensive cultivation of flowers, planners have also come up with designs for floating greenhouses designed so that the water beneath them irrigates the plants and controls the temperature inside.

A pilot project, covering 50 hectares of flooded land near Amsterdam's Schiphol airport, is planned for 2005.

The opportunities for innovative developers look promising. "We have 10 projects in the pipeline—floating villages and cities complete with offices, shops and restaurants," Van der Woerdt said.

51. The Netherlands plans to start building floating communities on water because _____.
- A. most parts of the country are covered by water
  - B. the country is constantly threatened by floods
  - C. it will promote the cultivation of flowers
  - D. people think it better to live on water
52. By citing "Everyone asks why didn't we do this kind of thing before", the author wants to tell us that _____.

  - B. the director of the firm didn't want to answer the question
  - C. the Netherlands should follow the example of Bangladesh
  - D. people are not satisfied with the government's work
53. The floating houses will be _____.
- A. reinforced with steel
  - B. made of concrete
  - C. constructed in water
  - D. built on boats

B. are beyond the reach of most Dutch people
C. will increase the cost of gardening

D. "10 building projects planned and started"

Passage 3

My new home was a long way from the centre of London but it was becoming essential to find a job, so finally I spent a whole morning getting to town and putting my name down to be considered by London Transport for a job on the tube. They were looking for guards, not drivers. This suited me. I couldn't drive a car but thought that I could probably guard a train, and perhaps continue to write my poems between stations. The writers Keats and Chekhov had been doctors. T. S. Eliot had worked in a bank and Wallace Stevens for an insurance company. I would be a tube guard. I could see myself being cheerful, useful, a good man in a crisis. Obviously I would be overqualified but I was willing to forget about that in return for a steady income and travel privileges — those being particularly welcome to someone living a long way from the city centre.

The next day I sat down, with almost a hundred other candidates, for the intelligence test, I must have done all right because after half an hour's wait I was sent into another room for a psychological test. This time there were only about fifty candidates. The examiner sat at a desk. You were signaled forward to occupy the seat opposite him when the previous occupant had been dismissed, after a greater or shorter time. Obviously the long interviews were the more successful ones. Some of the interviews were as short as five minutes. Mine was the only one that lasted a minute and a half.

I can remember the questions now: "Why did you leave your last job?" "Why did you leave your job before that?" "And the one before that?" I can't recall my answers, except that they were short at first and grew progressively shorter. His closing statement, I thought, revealed a lack of sensitivity which helped to explain why as a psychologist, he had risen no higher than the underground railway. "You have failed the psychological test and we are unable to offer you a position. "

Failing to get that job was my low point. Or so I thought, believing that the work was easy. Actually, such jobs — being a postman is another one I still desire — demand exactly the sort of elementary yet responsible awareness that the habitual dreamer is least qualified to give. But I was still far short of full self-understanding. I was also short of cash.

56. The writer applied for the job because _____.
 A. he could no longer afford to live without one
 B. he wanted to work in the centre of London
 C. he had received suitable training
 D. he was not interested in any other available job
57. The writer thought he was overqualified for the job because _____.
 A. he had written many poems
 B. he often traveled underground
 C. he had worked in an insurance company
 D. he could deal with difficult situations
58. The length of his interview meant that _____.
 A. he had not done well in the intelligence test
 B. he was not going to be offered the job
 C. he had little work experience to talk about
 D. he did not like the examiner
59. What was the writer's opinion of the psychologist?
 A. He was inefficient at his job.                      B. He was unsympathetic.
 C. He was unhappy with his job.                      D. He was very aggressive.
60. What does the writer realize now that he did not realize then?
 A. How difficult it can be to get a job.
 B. How unpleasant ordinary jobs can be.
 C. How badly he did in the interview.
 D. How unsuitable he was for the job.

Passage 4

For more than 10 years there has been a bigger rise in car crime than in most other types of crime. An average of more than two cars a minute are broken into, vandalized (破坏) or stolen in the UK. Car crime accounts for almost a third of all reported offences with no signs that the trend is slowing down.

Although there are highly professional criminals involved in car theft, almost 90 percent of car crime is committed by the opportunist. Amateur thieves are aided by our carelessness. When the Automobile Association (AA) engineers surveyed one town centre car park last year, 10 percent of cars checked were unlocked, a figure backed up by a Home Office national survey that found 12 percent of drivers sometimes left their cars unlocked.

The vehicles are sitting in petrol stations while drivers pay for their fuel. The AA has discovered that cars are left unattended for an average of three minutes — and sometimes much longer — as drivers buy drinks. Cigarettes and other consumer items — and then pay at the counter. With payment by credit card more and more common, it is not unusual for a driver to be out of his car as long as six minutes providing the car thief with a golden opportunity.

In an exclusive AA survey, carried out at a busy garage on a main road out of London, 300 motorists were questioned over three days of the holiday period. 24 percent admitted that they “always” or “sometimes” leave the keys in the car. This means that nationwide, a million cars daily become easy targets for the opportunist thief.

The AA recommends locking up whenever you leave the car — and for however short a period. A partially open sunroof or window is a further come-on to thieves.

Leaving valuables in view is an invitation to the criminal. A Manchester probationary (假释期) service research project, which interviewed almost 100 car thieves last year, found many would investigate a coat thrown on a seat. Never leave any documents showing your home address in the car. If you have a garage, use it and lock it — a garaged car is at substantially less risk.

There are many other traps to avoid. The Home Office has found little awareness among drivers about safe parking. Most motorists questioned made no efforts to avoid parking in quiet spots away from street lights — just the places thieves love. The AA advises drivers to park in places with people around—thieves do not like audiences.

61. The passage seems to imply that payment by credit card _____.
A. is preferable for safe parking                      B. is now a common practice
C. takes longer than necessary                      D. aids a car thief in a way
62. Which of the following statements is correct?
A. In the UK, a million cars are stolen daily.
B. In the UK, there are amateur car thieves only.
C. There are more car crimes than any other type of offences.
D. One in ten drivers invites car theft due to carelessness.
63. The researches mentioned in the passage on car theft include all the following EXCEPT _____.
A. checking private garages                      B. interviewing motorists
C. questioning car thieves                      D. examining parking lots
64. The best way for a driver to avoid car theft is _____.
A. leaving documents showing one's home address in the car
B. locking one's car in a parking lot at any time
C. not leaving the car unattended for longer than necessary
D. not leaving a sunroof or window partially open
65. In the last paragraph, the term “safe parking” means _____.
A. not parking under street lights
B. not parking in front of a theatre or cinema
C. avoiding traps set by a possible car thief
D. parking where a lot of people pass by

Passage 5

Nowadays, we hear a lot about the growing threat of globalization, accompanied by those warnings that the rich pattern of local life is being undermined, and many dialects and traditions are becoming extinct. But stop and think for a moment about the many positive aspects that globalization is bringing. Read on and you are bound to feel comforted, ready to face the global future, which is surely inevitable now.

Consider the Internet, that prime example of our shrinking world. Leaving aside the all-to-familiar worries about pornography and political extremism, even the most narrow-minded must admit that the net offers immeasurable benefits, not just in terms of education, the sector for which it was originally designed, but more importantly on a global level, the spread of news and comment. It will be increasingly difficult for politicians to maintain their regimes of misinformation, as the oppressed will not only find support and comfort, but also be able to organize themselves more effectively.

MTV is another global provider that is often criticized for imposing popular culture on the unsuspecting millions around the world. Yet the viewers' judgment on MTV is undoubtedly positive; it is regarded as indispensable by most of the global teenage generation who watch it, a vital part of growing up. And in the final analysis, what harm can a few songs and videos cause?

Is the world dominance of brands like Nike and Coca-Cola so bad for us, when all is said and done? Sportswear and soft drinks are harmless products when compared to the many other things that have been globally available for a longer period of time — heroin and cocaine, for example. In any case, just because Nike shoes and Coke cans are for sale, it doesn't mean you have to buy them — even globalization cannot deprive the individual of his free will.

Critics of globalization can stop issuing their doom and gloom statements. Life goes on, and has more to offer for many citizens of the world than it did for their parents' generation.
