第一版前言

《大学英语泛读教程》系列教材是在美国圣智学习出版公司出版的*Reading for Today Series*的基础上改编而成的。本系列教材保留了原版教材新颖独特的设计模式和先进的编写理念，并根据我国大学英语教学的实际，改编了部分练习，增编了中英文双语释义的词汇表。

《大学英语泛读教程》系列教材共分5级，适合从初级到高级不同水平的学生使用：

《大学英语泛读教程·预备级》(Themes for Today) 初级·低起点

《大学英语泛读教程1》(Insights for Today) 初级·高起点

《大学英语泛读教程2》(Issues for Today) 中级

《大学英语泛读教程3》(Concepts for Today) 中高级

《大学英语泛读教程4》(Topics for Today) 高级

本书是《大学英语泛读教程2》(Issues for Today)，适合非英语专业一年级下半学期的学生使用。本教材共4个单元(Unit)，每个单元由3章(Chapter)组成。

本教材的特点主要体现在以下几个方面：

重视培养学生阅读文献的能力和技巧。本教材不仅训练学生阅读文章的技巧，还重视培养学生从各类图表、曲线图、插图和图片中获取信息的能力，为学生今后阅读文献打基础。

教材编写贴近学生的现实生活，真实、丰富、有趣。本教材的主要内容有家庭、语言与文化、锻炼与健康、发明家、历史、科学技术等，与学生的生活联系紧密。此外，学生还可通过形式多样的练习，以口头和书面的方式讨论自身经历、本国民俗文化及与美国和其他国家的差异等。

重视词汇的复现和反复操练。实践表明，初学者尤其需要对生词进行反复练习。通过不断复现所学词汇，学生可更好地理解、记住这些词汇。本教材中，每篇文章中的大多数词汇不仅在该单元中进行了大量操练，而且在其他单元中反复运用，有助于学生掌握所学词汇。

重视学习与现实生活、新技术的联系，培养学习能力。本教材每个单元都配有一段 CNN 录像资料，并有配套练习帮助学生理解录像内容。此外，每个单元都有网络学习内容，鼓励学生通过互联网获取更丰富的内容和知识，进一步提高学习能力。

总之，《大学英语泛读教程2》(Issues for Today)旨在提高学生的阅读能力、巩固所学词汇、激发学生对不同话题的兴趣，为今后阅读学术、技术文献奠定基础。

《大学英语泛读教程》系列教材由贵州大学王健芳教授任总主编。《大学英语泛读教程2》(Issues for Today)由贵阳医学院朱华章教授任主编，贵州财经学院丁小康、贵州医学院张肖鹏任副主编，编者有龙云、罗运琴和赵忆。

INTRODUCTION

How to Use This Book

Each chapter in this book consists of the following:

- Prereading Preparation
- Reading the Passage
- Notes
- Fact-Finding Exercise
- Reading Analysis
- Information Organization
- Information Recall and Summary
- Word Forms
- Word Replacement
- Topics for Discussion and Writing
- Follow-Up Activities
- Cloze Quiz

Chapters 3, 6, 9 and 12 include a Translation exercise and Chapters 7–12 a Dictionary Skill exercise. The discussion section at the end of each unit ties in the related topics of the three chapters. There are CNN® video, Internet activities and Reading Strategy at the end of each unit. The Word List is at the end of the book.

Prereading Preparation

This prereading activity is designed to stimulate student interest and provide preliminary vocabulary for the passage itself. The importance of prereading preparation should not be underestimated. Studies have shown the positive effect of prereading preparation in motivating student interest, activating background knowledge, and enhancing reading comprehension. Time should be spent describing and discussing the photographs and illustrations as well as discussing the chapter title and the prereading questions. Furthermore, students should try to relate the topic to their own experiences and try to predict what they are going to read about.

Reading the Passage

Students will read the passage for the first time. They should be instructed to time themselves and to try to aim for a higher reading speed the second time they read the passage. They should also be encouraged to read ideas, not just words.

Notes

This section is placed after the text. It contains the information or cultural background related to the text, and long sentences difficult for students to understand, attempting to fill gaps in students' understanding of a certain aspect or problem. Students should be encouraged, either before or after class, to explore more information about the text. If necessary, the teacher may prepare additional materials to the notes.

Fact-Finding Exercise

After reading the passage again, students will read the True/False statements and check whether they are true or false. If the statement is false, students will rewrite the statement so that it is true. They will then go back to the passage and find the line(s) that contain the correct answer. This activity can be done individually or in groups.

Reading Analysis

Students will read each question and answer it. The first question in this section always refers to the main idea. There are three possible answers. Two answers are incorrect because they are too general or too narrow, they are not mentioned in the passage, or they are false. When going over the exercise, the teacher should discuss with students why the other two answers are incorrect. The rest of this exercise requires students to think about the structure of the sentences and paragraphs, and the relationships of ideas to one another. This exercise is very effective when done in groups. It may also be done individually, but if done in groups it gives students an excellent opportunity to discuss possible answers.

Information Organization

In this exercise, students are asked to read the passage again, take notes, and organize the information they have just read. They may be asked to complete an outline, a table, or a flowchart. The teacher may want to review the concept of notetaking before beginning the exercise. The outline, table, or flowchart can be sketched on the blackboard by the teacher or a student and completed by individual students in front of the class. Variations can be discussed by the class as a group. It should be pointed out to students that in American colleges, teachers often base their exams on the notes that students are expected to take during class lectures, and that they, too, will be tested on their notes.

Information Recall and Summary

The questions in this exercise are based on the notes students took in the Information Organization exercise. Students should be instructed to read the questions and then to refer to their notes to answer them. They are also asked to write a summary of the article. The teacher may want to review how to summarize at the beginning of the class. This section can be prepared in class and discussed. Alternately, it can be assigned for homework.

Word Forms

As an introduction to the word form exercises in this book, it is recommended that the teacher first review parts of speech, especially verbs, nouns, adjectives, and adverbs. The teacher should point out each word form's position in a sentence. Students will develop a sense for which part of speech is missing in a given sentence. The teacher should also point out clues to tense and number, and whether an idea is affirmative or negative. Each section has its own instructions, depending on the particular pattern that is being introduced. For example, in the section containing words which take -tion in the noun form, the teacher can explain that in this exercise students will look at the verb and noun forms of two types of words that use the suffix -tion in their noun form. (1) Some words simply add -tion to the verb: convict/conviction; if the word ends in e, the e is dropped first: execute/execution; (2) other words can drop the final e and add -ation: combine/combination. This exercise is very effective when done in pairs. After students have a working knowledge of this type of exercise, it can be assigned for homework.

Dictionary Skills

This exercise, in Chapters 7–12, provides students with much-needed practice in selecting the appropriate dictionary entry for an unknown word, depending on the context.

The sentence containing the dictionary word is provided above the entry. After selecting the appropriate entry, students rewrite the sentence using the chosen definition. Students should write the answer in a grammatically correct form, as they may not always be able to copy verbatim from the dictionary. Students can work in pairs on this exercise and report back to the class. They should be prepared to justify their choices.

Word Replacement

This is a multiple choice exercise designed to help students consolidate their understanding of the usage of some key words and expressions used in the reading passage. It can be done for homework as a review or in class as group work.

Topics for Discussion and Writing

In this section, students are encouraged to use the information and vocabulary from the passage both orally and in writing. The writing assignment may be done in class or at home. There is a Write in your journal suggestion for every chapter. Students should be encouraged to keep a journal and respond to these questions. The teacher may want to read and respond to the students' journal entries, but not correct them.

Follow-Up Activities

This section contains various activities appropriate to the information in the passages. Some activities are designed for pair and small-group work. Students are encouraged to use the information and vocabulary from the passages both orally and in writing. The teacher may also use these questions and activities as home or in-class assignments.

Cloze Quiz

The Cloze Quiz tests not only vocabulary, but also sentence structure and comprehension in general. The quiz is a modified version of the reading passage itself, with 20 items to be completed. At the top of the answer page, students are given the 20 words to be filled in the blank spaces. The quizzes can be done either as a test or as a group assignment.

Translation

A Translation exercise is devised in Chapters 3, 6, 9 and 12. It consists of two parts, with one part having three Chinese sentences that students should translate into English, and the other containing two English sentences that students should translate into Chinese. The exercise, as a supplement to the previous exercises, aims at helping students further enhance their ability to use in a given context some key vocabulary items that they have learnt from the three reading passages in each unit. It can be assigned as homework or group work in class.

CNN® Video and Internet Activities

These two activities are optional ones designed to accompany one of the topics presented in each unit. The authentic CNN videos were chosen to expand on concepts presented in the readings, to reinforce vocabulary learned, and to encourage individual interest as well as group discussion. The optional Internet activities provide encouragement to students to explore information learned in Issues for Today through the technology available to them at school, in the library and computer labs, and at home.

Reading Strategy

This section is designed for the purpose of providing students with necessary reading strategy. The sections of all the five books consist of a full picture of reading strategy, involving guessing word meanings through word-formation information and context clues, avoiding bad reading habits, understanding sentences, paragraphs and passages, skills for skimming and scanning, making sound judgments and inferences, and understanding cultural information, and so on. The tips for the strategy are in Chinese for readers' convenience.

Word List

This section contains new words, phrases and expressions, proper names from all the chapters. It is located after the last chapter.
