Preface

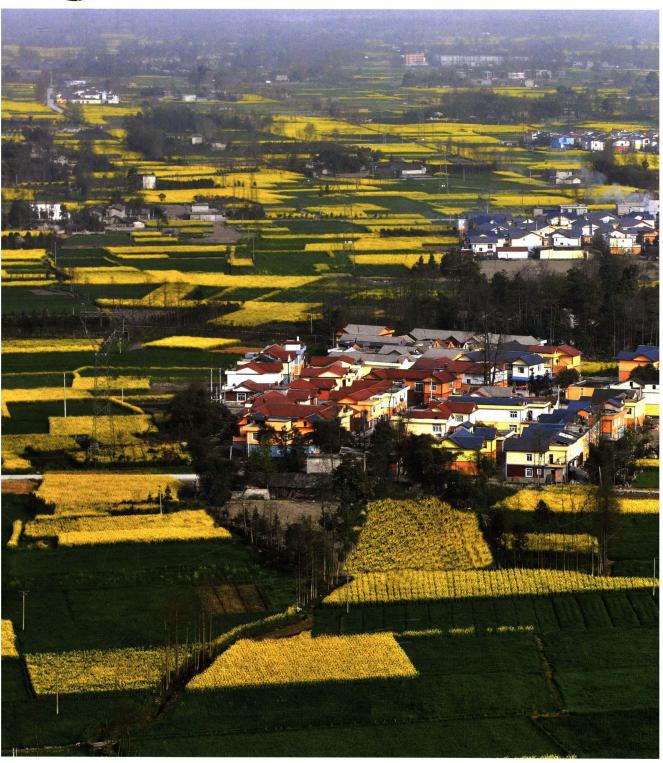

Fu Yonglin Vice Mayor of Chengdu Municipal People's Government

The vast expanse of fertile land of Sichuan is known as an ocean on land. When the land is afflicted by drought, people channel water to irrigate it. When it rains, the sluice will be shut. And therefore it was recorded: because of controlling floods and droughts, people have no taste of famine, and suffer no lean year. So Chengdu is called Tianfu (the land of abundance), the Natural Storehouse. The cultural history of Chengdu has run a long course from a remote source, its development history of civilization of at least more than 4500 years and its history of city planning and construction of more than 2300 years. In December 1949, Chengdu was liberated, which opened a new chapter in its history. Over the last thirty years since the implementation of the policy of reform and opening to the outside world, especially the promotion of urban-rural integration, an earth-shaking change has taken place in Chengdu, which has been chosen in succession as National Model City of Social Development, National Model City of Environmental Conservation, the Best Tourist City of China, National Garden City, National Forest City, the City of the Most Enormous Economic Vitality of China, the Model City of Investment Environment in the mainland of China, the Strongest Soft Power City in Chinese mainland...Having joined the World Organization of United Cities and Local Governments (UCLG), Chengdu is the first cyber member of the world outstanding tourist destination in Asia, the capital of the world intangible cultural heritage. Chengdu is the scientific and technological, commercial, financial centre, the hub of communications and the signal centre in Southwest China determined by the State Council, a famous historical and cultural city in China, Chinese urban-rural synthetical reform area, and the capital of Sichuan Province. It is essential to develop the urban humanistic spirit and build the modern civil society. Under the leadship of the Chengdu Municipal Party Committee and the Municipal People's Government, the people of Chengdu are striding firmly forward into the historical orientation and long-term objective for building the world modern garden and park city.
