Good evening. Today it has been warm and sunny in most parts of the country. But the fine weather isn't going to last. If we look at tomorrow's map we'll see that it's going to become very windy and rather cold. I'm afraid you'll have to put on your warm clothes.

In the northeast there will be heavy snow and the temperature will fall to 20°C below zero. In the northwest it will stay dry but very windy. It will be much colder than today. The strong winds will bring cold air to the east. In North China it will be cloudy with the temperature of about zero. The southwest will be cloudy too but much warmer. Near the east coast (海岸) there will be light rain and the highest temperature will be only 5°C . In the rest of the country it will stay warm and sunny.

Have you ever wanted something so badly that you wanted to do anything to get it? Well that used to be me. Three years was quite a long and hard time but I got what I wanted a lovely dog named Dion.

My family and I met it at a dog show. We drove for four hours to its owner's house where she showed us three little dogs. They were all so lovely with their little legs long bodies and heads that looked too big for their bodies. I couldn't decide which to choose until the smallest dog came up to me and licked (舔) my face.

For a while Dion felt quite foreign to our home. Every night she cried in a way that sometimes made me cry. She cried almost every second of the day. But after a few weeks she got used (习惯) to us.

My mother and I took Dion to a kindergarten (幼儿园) for little dogs. It was funny to see all the dogs barking (吠) very loudly. The only one who didn't bark was Dion. She was very shy and hid from people. But she was very friendly with the other dogs. The trainer says that she is doing very well for a four-month-old dog.

If you want to get a dog think about your time and the work you must do. I walk Dion four to six times a day. I feed her spend time with her and watch her when she is out of her doghouse. Even if my favourite TV program is on or a good part in a movie is coming up I still have to take care of her. It is a lot of work to keep her clean. Sometimes when I brush her I end up with hair all over me.

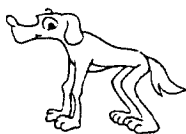

But I think it is all worth it. Dion also gives her love to me in return. She is always there to lick me and lie on me. I enjoy playing with her. I think she can tell when I am happy sad angry or troubled. Dion is my dog and she is my friend as well.

The CBS — TV “National Drivers Test” showed that many US drivers have a lot to learn. Here's why.

CBS picked 1,799 drivers to take the test in TV stations in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, and Los Angeles. More than two out of five of the drivers failed the test. And the average (平均) score was the lowest passing mark — 51 points out of a possible 80.

Chicago drivers did best with an average of 53 points. Los Angeles drivers came next with 52 points. New York and Philadelphia drivers got 50 points — a failing score. Drivers with 50 points or less were rated (评价) “poorly informed” by the judges (= persons who decide the result of competitions).

Here are some of the test results:

- 1) Are men drivers better informed than women ones?

Yes. Men averaged 52 points. Women got an average of 49.

- 2) Are older drivers better informed than younger drivers?

No. Drivers under 26 averaged 52 points. Drivers from 27 to 45 averaged 51. Drivers over 45 failed with a 48 point average.

- 3) Does education make a difference?

Yes. College graduates averaged 52 points. High school graduates averaged 50. Those without high school diplomas (毕业证) got 48. And people who had taken driver education lessons scored an average of 53 points — three more than those who hadn't.

- 4) Does driving experience make a difference?

Yes. Drivers with three or more years experience averaged 51 points. Drivers with less experience averaged 49.

Here are some surprising facts brought out by the test:

- 1) More than one out of three drivers did not know that a blinking (闪烁的) red light means a full stop.
 2) Three out of ten drivers did not know that an octagonal (eight-sided) sign means stop.
